

Vittorio Veneto, 13 May 2014

Silca is attending the yearly Convention of the European Locksmith Federation (ELF) with ground-breaking new products and solutions for the key cutting and locksmith business.

Silca is attending the 2014 Convention of the European Locksmith Federation, the international association of locksmiths and professional key cutters, which is taking place from 22nd to 25th of May 2014 at the Firenze Fiera Congress Center in Florence.

Silca has chosen this worldwide important event devoted to the security business, which coincides this year with the 30th anniversary of the organization, to showcase its latest ground-breaking products and introduce to the wide audience its pioneering automotive solutions. On this prestigious occasion, visitors and attendees of the training courses will be able to see with their own eyes and interact directly with Silca's cutting-edge automotive solutions and transponder devices, testing first-hand the company's plenty proposals dedicated to the vehicle key duplication business.

However, Silca is not only going to exhibit innovative products, but is also holding a seminar targeting key cutters new to the profession and expert locksmiths operating in the automotive trade. The training session, entitled "The transponder key programming training and new automotive solutions for locksmiths", is taking place on Friday 23rd of May from 4.00pm to 6.00pm in the Sala Adua 2 of the Palazzo degli Affari.

Entrance to the 2014 ELF Convention is free upon registration on the following link:
